THE Goebel Law is the most fitting nt that GOEBEL could have

THE esteemed musical director of THE esteemed musical director of The Dover News is quite surprised to note the similar similarity of certain editorials that appear in certain well edited Republican papers. Nothing strange about that Colonel Sast; been telling you all along that the Republi-cans are of one mind.

THE Ashland News presents this striking object-lesson for the consideration of calantity howlers. It gives a comparison of the bank deposits in that city under CLEWELAND in 1806 and under McKINLEV in 1900—the first under the policy of Americans buying their goods in Europe, and the latter under the policy of Americans buying their goods in America—with the advantage "slightly" in favor of one American patrofizing his brother American. Here are the bank deposits of Ashland subject to check at the two periods at the close of business in April:
